

6516205794.txt

I am a new satellite listener and a frequent commuter. I find that the availability of INSTANT traffic information is worthwhile for me. Having to wait for the information until my local station broadcasts on it can sometimes mean the difference between a 30 minute commute and an hour or more. Having the ability to get up to the minute information helps me stay on time and helps the environment by allowing me to get to my destination quicker and thus putting less toxins in the air.